

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Monday, July 12

1999

Free tickets to Moon landing re-enactment available

A limited number of complimentary tickets to the 9 p.m., July 19, Apollo 11 Moon landing re-enactment at the U.S. Space & Rocket Center are available for Marshall civil service employees through organizational directors. Ticket prices and schedules for other performances of the re-enactment are available by calling 837-3400.

Visit 'Inside Marshall' for complete Saturday picnic information

Chief Counsel all-hands meeting
Tues., 10-11:30
a.m., Bldg. 4200,
room 915

Computer criminal activity topic of briefing Wednesday

A briefing on computer criminal activity will be held Wednesday at 9 a.m. in Morris Auditorium. Thomas J. Talleur of the NASA Headquarters Office of Inspector General, Advanced Technology Programs, will speak. For more information, call Marshall Information Technology coordinator Steve Jones at 544-4373.

Apollo 11 Factoid

A silicon disc carrying statements by Presidents Nixon, Johnson, Kennedy and Eisenhower, and from the leaders of 73 other nations was among the items left on the Moon by Apollo 11 astronauts. Remember to mark calendars for Marshall's Apollo 11 anniversary celebration and picnic Saturday.

Safety shoe van
here 8 a.m.-2 p.m.
Wed., southwest
end of Bldg. 4471